FOREWORD

This year, so full of joys and sorrows, defeats and victories, has gone, and try as we may, we cannot in reality live again the years that have past. But in this book we have tried to reflect as vividly as we can, our yesterdays, todays and tomorrows.

Hoping we may succeed in recalling to you these memories of K. H. S. we now submit this volume of
THE 1928 PIONEER

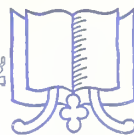

DEDICATION

TO MISS HELEN ELIZABETH HARRIS

Our Sponsor, who has been a very true and sympathetic friend; who has helped us in time of trouble, and rejoiced with us in our good fortune; who has labored diligently and faithfully with us in the publishing of this Annual, we, the class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-eight, respectfully dedicate this volume of

W. H. BROWN, JR.

Mascot is he, our little "Buddy" Brown.
As handsome and cute as any boy in town.
Seniors adore him, and so too would you;
Cheer then for "Buddy," cheer, "One! Two!
One! Two!
Of all the cute kids we have met,
The cutest yet is 'Buddy,' you bet."

MRS. D. A. JOLLEY

MRS. J. R. MCKNIGHT

GRADE MOTHERS

"Oh mothers, dear, we look to you
To be our guide through life.
Each errant one you will pursue
And guide us through the strife.
Oh mothers, dear, oh mothers, dear,
God give your works far fame
For all success that comes to us
We give your work acclaim."

HAZEL WILMA BAKER

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28.

If you are looking for a good heart, a true friend, and a jolly companion, you will find them all in Hazel. She is quiet, conscientious, studious and respectful—a friend never to be forgotten.

La voir, c'est l'aimer avec beaucoup d'amour

LILLIAN FAY BRANTLEY

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Athletic Association, '27-'28; Basketball, '28.

For any information about our blond, Lillian, just see "Leaky." They say she's independent, but she makes friends just the same. She shines in basketball, and is an all-round good sport.

EDNA BROWN

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Glee Club, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Athletic Association, '28.

Edna, known as "Skinny," always surprises us with the unexpected. A better sport is no where to be found. Her smiles and laughter will be missed at K. H. S. She's our biggest teaser.

WILMA BROWN

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Glee Club, '25; Home Economics Club, '26-'27; Athletic Association, '26-'28; Philomathean Literary Society, '28.

Wilma, the fairest of Seniors, has always a smile for every one, especially the opposite sex. As well as being pretty, she is sweet, and everybody loves her.

MYRTLE ESTELLE DAVIS

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Home Economics Club, '26; Executive Committee of Commercial Club, '27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Stenographer, '28.

"Myrt." voted the naughtiest Senior, is not naughty bad—but naughty nice! She has proved a great help to THE PIONEER staff this year with her skill as typist.

LAWRENCE L. FOWLER

Basketball, '24-'28; Baseball, '24-'28; Captain Basketball, '26-'27; Captain Baseball, '26-'28; All-State Baseball, '25; All-Western Basketball, '26-'27; Football, '25-'26; Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Athletic Association, '24-'28; Vice-President Glee Club, '25; Vice-President Athletic Association, '27-'28; PIONEER Athletic Editor, '28.

"An athlete and a good sport"—that's "Lot-tie." He has gained fame with his B. B. record.

RALPH GILLON

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Athletic Association, '25-'28; Class Secretary, '26-'27; Track Team, '28; Class President, '28.

Gillon is our most handsome Senior, and has the distinction of being our President as well. Though he isn't noted for "speed," he gets us there, for he is steady, dependable, tried, and true.

MARY B. HARRISON

Philomathean Literary Society, '28; Athletic Association, '28; PIONEER Assistant Editor, '28; Cheer Leader, '28.

"Runt," our cutest girl, is small in size, but she has taken no small part in school activities since joining us in '27. Her honors speak for her as being peppy, popular, and dependable.

LAURA HASTINGS

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; Poet, '25; Glee Club, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Athletic Association, '27-'28; PIONEER Exchange Editor, '28.

"Peanut" has led a very active life through high school. There's always something doing when she's around. She's this kind: Tall, good-looking, popular, and sings like a bird.

EDITH L. JOLLEY

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Glee Club, '25-'26; Athletic Association, '26-'28; Class Treasurer, '27; Secretary Philomathean Literary Society, '27; Historian, '28.

Edith, always the happy-go-lucky, and the most zealous of Seniors, is truly a good pal. She is a typical blond with eyes that shine in innocence.

EDGAR MONROE KETCHIE

Class President, '25-'26; Vice-President, '27; Phi Kappa Alpha Literary Society, '24; Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Athletic Association, '25-'28; Football Squad, '25-'26; Varsity Basketball, '26-'28; Track Team, '28; PIONEER Business Manager, '28.

"Ed" spells "pep," and we mean he has it, not only in athletics but in all school activities. Consult THE PIONEER.

YVONNE ALBERTA MAULDEN

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Home Economics Club, '27; Class Historian, '26; Treasurer Cannon Literary Society, '26; Glee Club, '25-'27; Basketball, '26-'28; Athletic Association, '28; Commercial Club, '27-'28; PIONEER Staff, '27; Cheer Leader, '28; PIONEER Editor-in-Chief, '28.

Clever, athletic, attractive, peppy, sociable, good-natured, the best all-around Senior—that's "Vonn." She shines in all school activities.

ELSIE MCKNIGHT

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Glee Club, '25-'26; Class Poet, '27; Vice-President Class, '28; Treasurer Philomathean Literary Society, '28; Athletic Association, '28.

Elsie, better known as "Chicken" to her friends, has won our hearts with her winsome ways. She is our most graceful Senior, and a good student.

WALTER H. MCINNIS

Philomathean Literary Society, '25; Cannon Literary Society, '26-'27; Class President, '25; Athletic Association, '26; Glee Club, '26; Commercial Club, '28; PIONEER Joke Editor, '28.

Among all the funny and witty people it will be hard to find one who surpasses "Walt." He is our class joker, and as giftorian, we expect him to shine in Commencement exercises.

TITUS O. SILLS

Cannon Literary Society, '27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Subscription Editor, '28.

"Tyte" has been the "live wire" of the class since he joined us in our Junior year. Whenever there is laughter at K. H. S. he is right there. He's little but he's loud—and has red hair besides.

VIRGA MAE SMITH

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'26; Glee Club, '26-'27; Class Treasurer, '28.

"Binkie" has but to smile one of her winning smiles and the prey is hers. She's a good pal, and a good student, too. She's always ready to answer questions in class, but she's in all the excitement as well.

CREALIE ALENE STEELE

Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Class Poet, '28.

An earnest and diligent student is our Crealie. She has an abundance of knowledge, especially of French, and we predict a professorship for her. Don't think she's two dignified for fun though—she likes it as much as anybody.

MARGARET ALENE STONESTREET

Vice-President Class, '25; Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; President Philomathean Literary Society, '28; Glee Club, '25-'26; Athletic Association, '25-'28; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Secretary Class, '28; PIONEER Subscription Editor, '28; Commercial Club, '28.

"Stony" was voted our most musical Senior, and well she deserves that honor, as well as the other honors bestowed upon her.

RUTH TAYLOR

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Kodak Editor, '28.

"Laugh" is "Rooster's" motto, and she has showed her good disposition throughout our high school days. She never looks on the dark side of things. To this characteristic of optimism, the Seniors add that of independence.

ANNE STEELE THOMPSON

Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Business Manager, '28.

"Ann's" sweet disposition accounts for her popularity. She holds the honor of being the most lovable Senior. She joined our class in '26, but has made up for lost time, and has won a warm spot in our hearts. Her class record is one to be coveted.

SHIRLEY LOCKWOOD TURBYFILL

Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Home Economics Club, '25-'26; Glee Club, '25-'27; Secretary Glee Club, '25-'26; Vice-President Class, '25-'26; Class President, '27; Winner Expression Medal, '27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Printer, '28.

"Sherlockette," outwardly reserved, and yet the Senior kid, is really an all-round good sport.

THELMA CATHERINE UPCHURCH

Philomathean Literary Society, '28.

Thelma, known as "Cricket," has been with us only one year, but she is loved by all. Her motto is "Work before pleasure," consequently she ranks high in her studies. She was voted our "quietest" Senior, but she makes herself heard in all class questions.

WALTER RALPH WHITLEY

Historian, '26; Athletic Association, '26-'28; Philomathean Literary Society, '25-'28; PIONEER Art Editor, '28.

"Whit" always takes things just as they come. He has been with us the four years and has proved himself useful as an artist. He is our most original Senior, and our lawyer, too.

LEON BROWN WINECOFF

Phi Kappa Alpha Literary Society, '24; Cannon Literary Society, '25-'27; Philomathean Literary Society, '28; PIONEER Literary Editor, '28; Basketball, '28; Athletic Association, '25-'28.

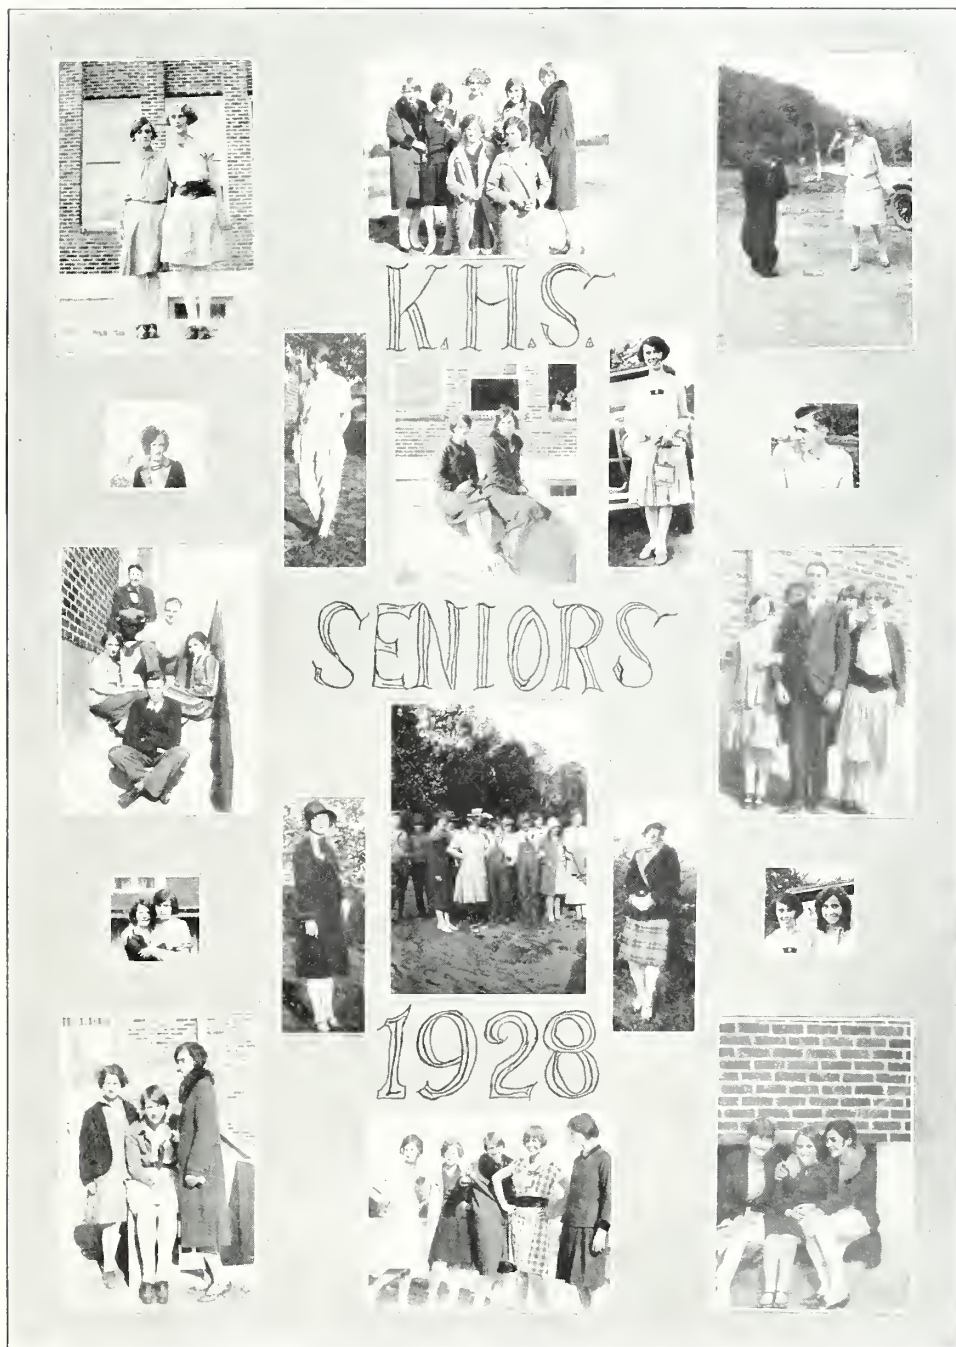

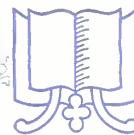

The Seniors won't ever forget the wonderful times they've had in "Leaky's" K. H. S. run-about. "Leaky" will takes us," has become a by-word. He's our right-hand man.

CLASS HISTORY

CHARACTER OF THE TIMES

The summer of 1924 was a period of great unrest. The affairs of Kannapolis had been thrown into much confusion by the realization of the natives that great ignorance existed. It became the duty of every one who loved humanity to unite in an effort to gain knowledge.

FOUNDING OF THE COLONY

The most important outcome of this growing sentiment was the planting of a colony at the Kannapolis High School, September, 1924. Because of the verdure of the settlers the colonists called themselves Freshmen.

HOSTILITY

So strong was the determination of this group to alleviate their woeful ignorance that not even the hostilities of a savage tribe led by Warriors Wisby, Wood, Smart and Humbert were able to defeat them in their purpose.

ELECTION OF 1924

In order to cope with existing conditions it was found necessary to have leaders, so early in the first year an election was held. Due to the size of the colony it was decided to divide it into two groups. Ketchie was chosen Governor; Harris, Lieut.-Governor; Efrd and Goldston, councillors, of one group. McInnis was chosen Governor; Stonestreet, Lieut.-Governor, and Helms, councillor, of the other. Under the capable leadership of these officers rapid progress along social and industrial lines was made. Invitations were extended by nearby settlements to share their hospitality and much was learned from these neighbors.

CHIEF EVENTS

The greatest progress intellectually was under the leadership of Smart in the study of bugs, grasshoppers, flowers and trees.

The chief social event was a weiner roast enjoyed by the colony as a whole.

NAME CHANGED; ELECTION OF 1925

A happy year rolled by, but the second year showed a decrease in the number of colonists. In spite of this decrease such growth in wisdom had taken place that it seemed proper to change the name of the colony, and they became known as Sophomores. A joint election was held early in 1925; Ketchie was chosen Governor; Turbyfill, Lieut.-Governor; Gillon and Hall, councillors.

PROGRESS; SOCIAL EVENTS

Again marked progress was shown, especially by the women who in their art of dressmaking won prizes in the county fair. Numerous social events were enjoyed during the year.

NAME CHANGED TO JUNIORS; ELECTION, 1926

So prosperous did the colonists become, and so much improved in wisdom and knowledge, that the name Sophomore gave place to Juniors in 1926. As was the custom an election was held in the fall of that year.

Turbyfill was chosen Governor; Ketchie, Lieut.-Governor; Gillon and Jolley, councillors. It was found proper to keep a permanent record of this colony, which was destined to become so famous; so Maulden was chosen to represent the colony on the staff of THE PIONEER, a record kept by a nearby settlement, the Seniors.

SOCIAL PROGRESS

Great intellectual progress was made during this year but the chief advancement was along social lines. The colonists were entertained elaborately by Elsie McKnight and Edyth Jolley. So friendly had the Juniors become with the next largest settlement, the Seniors, that a big reception was given them. They conducted themselves so admirably and enjoyed the occasion to such an extent that they decided to reciprocate; so a banquet was given the Seniors the following spring. It was a swell affair and did much to increase the friendly relations of the two settlements.

COLONISTS EXCEL AS ACTORS

In order to finance these various social affairs and to pay for space in THE PIONEER, it was found necessary to raise money; so the colonists decided to try their skill as actors on the stage. A play, "The Wren," was selected and so well did the first performance succeed that it was reproduced in several nearby settlements.

JUNIORS SUCCEED SENIORS

In May, 1927, the Senior colony decided to abandon their settlement, and because of their remarkable progress the Junior colony was chosen to fill their place. So in September, 1927, the Juniors assumed full responsibility, left their old abode, and changed their name to Seniors, and another election was held.

ELECTION OF 1928

Since the business of the colony had grown so much it seemed wise to have more officers of the law. The result of the election was: Gillon, Governor; McKnight, Lieut.-Governor; Stonestreet, Secretary of State; Smith, Secretary of Treasury; Jolly, Historian; Turbyfill, Prophet; Whitley, Chief Justice; Steele, Secretary of Poetic Art; McInnis, Secretary of Charities.

STAFF OF PIONEER

In taking this place as leader among the settlements, the Seniors assumed full management of THE PIONEER, the record of the colonies. Thus it was necessary to have a staff. The following were elected: Editor-in-Chief, Maulden; Assistant Editor, Harrison; Business Managers, Ketchie and Thompson; Athletic Editor, Fowler; Exchange Editor, Hastings; Literary Editor, Winecoff; Art Editor, Whitley; Joke Editor, McInnis; Kodak Editor, Taylor; Subscription Editors, Stonestreet and Sills; Printer, Turbyfill; Stenographer, Davis. Great work was done by these capable staff members. The 1928 PIONEER stands as evidence of their efficient service.

CHIEF SOCIAL EVENT OF '27

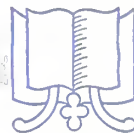

The chief social event of 1927 was a Christmas party given the Junior colony by the Seniors. Santa Claus left a real Christmas tree bearing gifts and goodies for every member of the two colonies. In spite of a downpour of rain the occasion was greatly enjoyed.

THE END

The great event toward which the colony is now working is Commencement, at which time we shall endeavor to show to the natives of Kannapolis our noble efforts in dispelling the woeful ignorance of our town.

NOTE: A more complete account of this colony will be rendered at Commencement.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DIARY OF SHIRLEY NORWOOD

SEPT. 9, 1948—My husband and I are taking a kind of second honeymoon during his vacation, stopping at the most celebrated parts of the United States. Poor fellow, a doctor's life isn't always such an easy one and this is our first real vacation since that thrilling month spent in New York on our first honeymoon, exactly fifteen years ago! But, not once has Shirley L. Turbyfill, noted elocutionist, regretted that she gave up her name and a most promising career to become the wife of the aforesaid doctor. Nevertheless, it will be great to leave cares behind and have an exciting time again. I'm all thrills!

SEPT. 11—You can't guess what a surprise I had today! Alene Stonestreet, the "Stony" of K. H. S., was the first person I saw when I stepped aboard the Crescent Limited. She was on her way to Atlanta, where she is giving a concert tonight. I asked "Stony" about our old classmates of 'Twenty-eight. It was such a shock when she told me that Elsa McKnight, the tomboy of our class, had settled down and was teaching math back at dear old Kannapolis High. Can you imagine such a thing? "Stony" said that Ralph Gillon, now a famous boxer, and Wilma Brown were married last week and are now on their honeymoon abroad. "Stony" and I had a good old talk and I was sorry when she got off in Atlanta.

SEPT. 15—The first stop on this, the famous tour, was in Asheville, N. C. While riding around I passed Biltmore Hospital and decided to stop for a few minutes. At the entrance I was met by the superintendent, and can you imagine who it was? Laura Hastings! She told me that Edna Brown, Mary Harrison, and Thelma Upchurch were graduates of Biltmore and are now pursuing further knowledge at Johns Hopkins Hospital. I was nearly knocked speechless when she said that Dr. Virga Smith and Dr. Ann Thompson, both famous specialists, were performing some wonderful operations at the hospital. I wanted so much to see them, but my time was running short and I had to hurry to catch my train.

SEPT. 16—The next place of interest to me was the Capitol in Washington. In the senate a distinguished looking man was making a speech and swaying the senate to his side. To my surprise, I recognized him as Ralph Whitley, my classmate of 'Twenty-eight. Then I remembered his oratorical ability at K. H. S. Back at my hotel I bought an extra of the Washington Times, and guess what it was all about? In big headlines, "Edgar Ketchie, second Lindbergh, and companions land in Egypt." Well, at last "Ed" had achieved his ambition to be a great flier. I surely was surprised as I read on to find that his companions were his wife, the former Edith Jolley, Titus Sills, expert mechanic, and Dr. Walter McInnis of Columbia University, who was to conduct a party of Americans in some research work among the antiques of Egypt. It was all so completely new to me that I just couldn't seem to grasp such astounding news. Just as I started to put the paper down my eye caught a familiar name. "Maulden," it was, and I stopped to read, "Editor-in-Chief, Y. A. Maulden." Why, that must be "Vonn" who labored so faithfully as the editor-in-chief of THE PIONEER, our high school annual, back at K. H. S. Hope I can see her before leaving the city.

SEPT. 20—Have been having such a big time in New York that I haven't had time to write down a thing. While at the opera last night I noticed a very stately looking woman in the opposite box. As she turned her face toward me I recognized her instantly as Ruth Taylor, the most independent senior of the class of 'Twenty-eight. I spoke, and as the curtains were being lowered at the end of the act, I soon found myself in her box. She was now a Countess, having married Count Huguenin of France. I surely was glad to see her, even if for just a few minutes. I hope to see more of her, but it is very doubtful, as I am leaving the city in the morning. Dr. Norwood and I have decided to buy a car before leaving. It's wonderful to think that tomorrow we will be motoring westward.

SEPT. 24—While passing over the plains into the West, Dr. Norwood and I beheld a large ranch. Here I was to find more classmates. The ranch belonged to Leon Winecoff and his wife, formerly Lillian Brantley.

SEPT. 27—As dark overcame us tonight before reaching our destination, we stopped in this small western town. The bells were ringing at a little Mission church for evening worship, and Dr. Norwood and I stopped in. There I beheld Crealie Steele teaching the westerners in her sweet way about Jesus.

OCT. 3—The next place in our travels was the theater in Los Angeles. To my delight I recognized Lawrence Fowler, well-known athlete, as the leading man in the play. In the chorus group I saw Myrtle Davis and Hazel Baker, now famous dancers.

After the play Dr. Norwood and I went in to see them. They were the last of the Seniors of 'Twenty-eight. I was just wondering what had happened to Miss Helen Harris, our Sponsor, and the dearest of all, when Myrtle said that she was married and living happily in an orange grove in southern sunny California. Miss Harris could not find her husband in the east so she had gone west, and there forgotten her former lovers.

We leave for home tomorrow, back to the humdrum of keeping house for a husband and three children. But what a wonderful vacation it has been! Seeing so many of my old friends has taken at least twenty years off my age, and I can almost imagine myself a school girl again back at dear old K. H. S. once more.

SHIRLEY L. TURBYFILL, Class Prophetess.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior class of Kannapolis High School, realizing that we must leave the dear old school where we have been nesting for knowledge for four long years, and that we must start the journey of success in life, conscious of the fact that the road is filled with temptations of evil and good, but with sound minds, physical bodies, and lovable dispositions, do hereby make known and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

ITEM ONE

To the Juniors we do will our "Senior dignity," our cozy room, and pictures, and all our PIONEER bills and surplus money.

ITEM TWO

To the succeeding classes we leave our privileges of having a football team (see page 85), and our many privileges (if you can discover them).

Our personal belongings we individually dispose of as follows:

I, Mary Harrison, do will and bequeath to Helen Flowe my passion for ear rings and chewing gum.

I, Alene Stonestreet, do hereby will and bequeath my love of Chaucer, and my knowledge of the town happenings to "Gar" Parker.

I, Wilma Brown, do hereby will and bequeath my innocence and dumb expression to Rachel Ketner.

I, Edna Brown, do hereby leave and bequeath the extensive circumference of my waist to Johnsie Maulden.

I, Edgar M. Ketchie, do hereby will and bequeath my shoes and sox to "Tuby" Bonds.

I, Virga Smith, do hereby will and bequeath to McNeil Petrie my ability to sing "Frère Jacques."

I, Ralph Whitley, leave to Greer McCall my ability of explaining geometry, by request of Miss Ruth Cannon.

I, Ralph Gillon, do hereby will and bequeath my ability of making "A's" on geometry to Boyd Baker.

I, Leon Winecoff, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to speed to "Speedy" Durham.

I, Hazel Baker, do hereby will and bequeath to Lucille Orr my numerous freckles.

I, Myrtle Davis, do hereby will and bequeath my naughtiness to Rosa Jane Cox.

I, Elsie McKnight, do hereby leave and bequeath my ability to stammer to Charles Goldston.

I, Yvonne Maulden, do hereby will and bequeath to Myrtle Daves my unrivaled athletic ability, trusting that this will assist her in adding many stars to her K.

I, Ruth Taylor, do hereby will and bequeath to Erline Sims my permanent wig.

I, Thelma Upchurch, do hereby will and bequeath to Pearl Keller my ability as typist.

I, Titus Sills, do hereby will and bequeath three physics books to Wallace McCombs.

I, Annie Thompson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to "grin and bear it" to Rosalee Faggart.

I, Laura Hastings, do will and bequeath to Alma McGuirt my winning ways and smiles, together with the merry twinkle of my brown eyes, hoping that she will break no hearts on account of them.

I, Crealie Steele, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to always know my lesson to James Funderburke and hope he will never have to study.

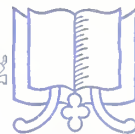

I, Lillian Brantley, do hereby will and bequeath to Bill Hastings my chemistry book, hoping he will be as successful as I have been.

I, Shirley Turbyfill, do hereby leave and bequeath my position as teacher's pet to "Jim" Peeler, the need thereof being most conspicuous.

I, Edyth Jolly, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to giggle to Connie Harmon.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we set our seal and signatures this 22nd day of May, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred Twenty-eight.

RALPH WHITLEY, Testator.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Our high school days have come and gone;
The years have fast passed by;
It seems but just a day or two
Since we were Freshies shy.

For four short years we worked and played,
With happiness and tears;
But now we must prepare to face
The trials of coming years.

Now, dear classmates of 'Twenty-eight,
The time has come to part;
With sadness we must say good-bye,
For parting breaks in our hearts.

When we think back to 'Twenty-four,
When we entered this school so dear,
It makes us want to live again
Those days of each school year.

Sweet memories shall never fade,
From this fair school and true,
For we shall always hold most dear
The days we spent with you.

Now let us all go up and on
With all our might and vim;
Determination is all we need
In this old world to win.

So farewell teachers, friends and school,
We say our last adieu;
In all the future years we pledge
To you we will be true.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

SUPPOSE:

"Tyte" Sills couldn't laugh.
Helen Flowe didn't know Latin.
Clarence Danner studied.
All the girls had long hair.
"Vonn" Maulden won the shorthand pennant.
"Ed" Ketchie forgot to argue.
"Jim" Funderburk wasn't conceited!
"Skinny" Brown should lose her "Peanut."
The boys didn't like rouge.
The faculty was hardboiled.
"Jim" Peeler was petted.
We couldn't have a football team.
The sophomores weren't wise.
Shirley Turbyfill caught girls' team eating sweets.
The freshmen were green.
The teams couldn't use the "gym" every day.
The China Grove telephone line wasn't always busy.
The seniors never disagreed.

I

A TWISTED SQUARE

1. Nrjoui
2. Muhrad
3. Lrekle
4. Noancn
5. Hrtrua
6. Echalr

Rearrange these letters so that you have:

1. A class.
2. A city.
3. The last name of a noted woman.
4. An instrument of war.
5. A famous King.
6. A woman of the Bible.

II

Rearrange these letters so that you have the last names of some school people:

1. Ctekehi
2. Rheudniro
3. Doignhogt
4. Bruytilfl
5. Ybiws
6. Atresw

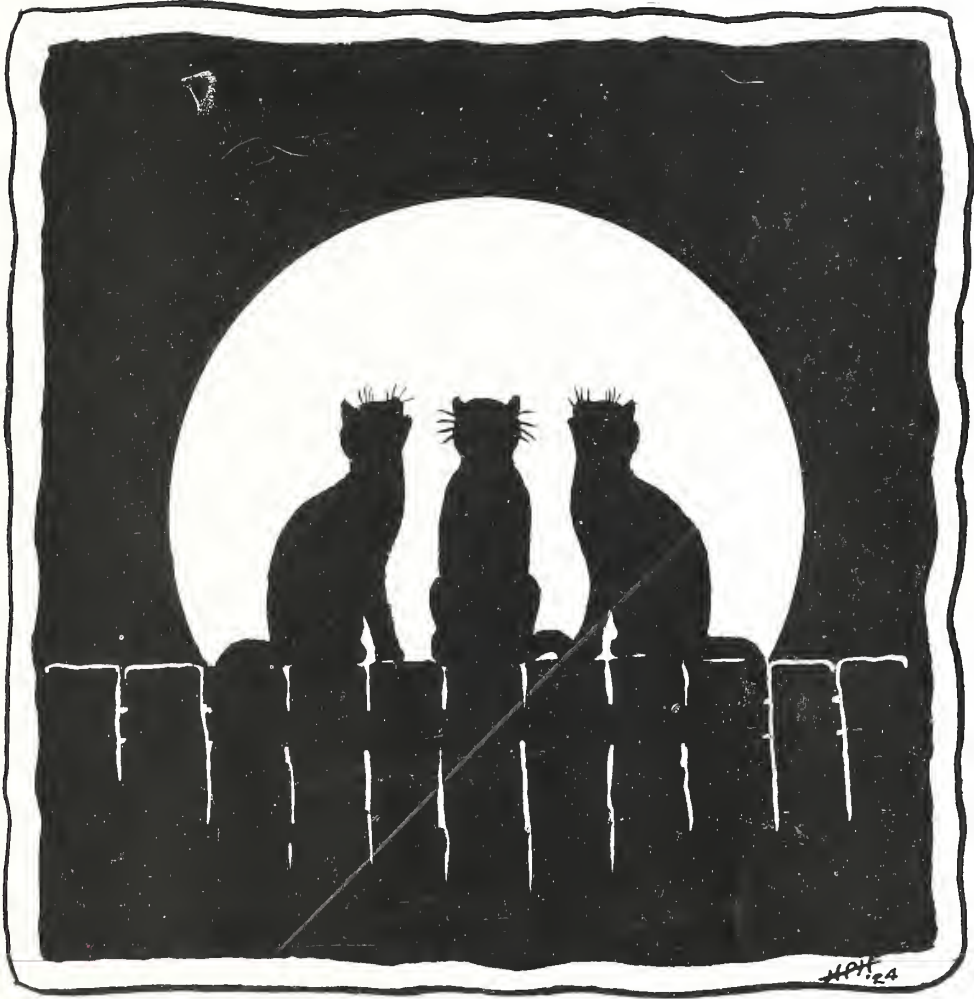

III

To behead means to cut off the first letter.

- Behead a question and get a head covering.
- Behead a rodent and get a preposition.
- Behead air and get z + one.
- Behead a place to sit and get to devour.
- Behead to ascend and get a branch.
- Behead in bed and get a place to sleep.
- Behead gravel and get a conjunction.
- Behead to peel and get your relatives.

YELLS

Razzle! Dazzle!
Not a frazzle
Every thread is wool!
Altogether! altogether!
That's the way to pull!
Team! Team! Team!

Wild and wooly,
Wild and wooly.
Beat 'em Kannapolis!
Bust 'em bully,
Hoot and toot,
Cut and shoot,
We're the bunch
That does the rootin'.
Kannapolis! Kannapolis! Kannapolis!

SONGS

Rah! Rah! Kannapolis!
We know you'll win.
Fight till the finish—never give in!
Rah! Rah! Rah!
You do your best boys.
We'll do the rest boys.
Rah! Rah! for K. H. S.

Whoop her up.
Whoop her up.
Whoop her up some more!
Kannapolis team is the team
That we all adore.
It's such a peach.
It's won our hearts.
It will surely win the game;
It is not rough,
It is not tough,
But it gets there just the same.

Skim a ring a ding ding.
Skim a ring a du.
We love you.
Skim a ring a ding ding.
Skim a ring a du.
Our team true.
We love you every morning.
We love you every night;
We love you when you're with us.
We love you out of sight.
Skim a ring a ding ding,
Skim a ring a du,
We love you.

APPRECIATION

The show is over. The curtain has fallen, and now calmly recalling it all, the Staff of 1928 wishes to dedicate this page of THE PIONEER to all those who have assisted in the preparation and rendering of this book. Our thanks are sincere and heartfelt.

We are especially indebted to the business men of Kannapolis, who have given us their hearty support.

Quiet Dignity

Quiet dignity—two words which describe most fittingly our part in doing what we can to lessen the sorrow of the bereaved.

Conducting the modern funeral has made quiet dignity the outstanding characteristic of our service. While modern methods have called for modern equipment we still maintain the same faithful service, the same that has been a part of our helpfulness in the past.
